

Allow me to tell you a little about myself. I grew up in Minnesota and graduated from Wayzata Senior High in Wayzata, Minnesota. I lettered in three varsity sports: basketball, baseball and soccer. I graduated from Arizona State University in 1990 with a Bachelor of Science degree in political science; my minor was in cultural geography. In 1993, I received a post-baccalaureate in secondary education, and I also earned my master's degree in Educational Leadership from Northern Arizona University in 2001.

This is my fifteenth year teaching at Mountain Pointe. The classes I have taught include World Geography, World History/Geography, Honors World History/Geography, AP World History, AP European History, Honors Economics and United States/Arizona Government. I believe Mountain Pointe is a great learning center with an outstanding faculty and staff.
